Gubi Unbound LED Table Lamp

The Unbound LED table lamp was designed by Space Copenhagen who are known for playing with intriguing juxtapositions. This can be seen in the design of the Unbound collection as the long delicate fabric shade is paired with a weighted marble base. The design is inspired by a pared-back take on a traditional Japanese paper lantern that appears to be floating just millimetres above the marble base creating a distinctive expression. This shade is described as resembling a silhouette of a ship with a billowing sail that feels lighter and looser, as though it might float away at any moment.

The Unbound table lamp design is also highly versatile as the energy efficient integrated LED strip is cleverly concealed on the dark antique brass arm that supports the shade from the inside. This arm also allows the shade to rotate 360 degrees that exposes the bottom of the shade providing a warming downlight. Described as a functional and flexible piece, the Gubi LED table lamp is a stunning design by itself, however when clustered, the shades can be positioned in unison or at angles to one another creating a peaceful feature even when switched off. Explore the Unbound collection and add a calming 'zen-like' atmosphere to your home.
