Karman Kimono Outdoor Suspension Light

Designed by Matteo Ugolini, the Kimono outdoor light is described by the creator as a 'lantern of light' as the light source is diffused through the fiberglass shade creating a warm scattering of light into a space. The shade is available in two sizes and appears to melt into its surroundings as the edges fray delicately away from the light.

The designer, Matteo Ugolini, says that he 'just designs what he truly likes' such as these stunning outdoor Kimono suspension lights that use a simple design to highlight the beauty of the fiberglass material. Ugolini's aim with the Kimono collection is to 'excite and create emotion' through the manipulation of light and detailed design. These Kimono suspension lights would be the perfect addition to any interior or exterior space, adding a touch of rustic elegance whilst diffusing a uniquely ambient light.
