Design For The People Belly Pendant

Designed by Bønnelycke MDD and inspired by a traditional Japanese teapot, the Design For The People Belly Pendant borders the line between Nordic and Japanese design. A closer look also reveals clear references to the cast-iron stove or the archetypal jingle bell. The hand-crafted shade displays an affection for simplicity of expression and honest materials, whilst the contemporary design combines the weightiness of the shape with the lightness of suspension.

Design For The People Belly Pendant casts a functional, yet soft, downwards light onto the space below and is height adjustable during installation, meaning it can fit perfectly into any environment. Whether that be your bedroom, kitchen, lounge - or even public spaces such as restaurants, bars and libraries.

This product is suitable for use with LED bulbs and when paired with a dimmable bulb can be dimmed.
