Pedrera ABC Table Lamp by Gubi

The ABC table lamp, as part of the Pedrera collection, is the smaller table version of the PD2 floor lamp. Originally designed as the floor lamp in 1955 by Barba Corsini, this lamp has been made from a collaboration between Corsini and Joaquim Ruiz Millet, reinventing his classic design as a table lamp for the current eye.

The design was conceived by Corsini for the 1955 attic renovation of the acclaimed La Pedrera and takes inspiration from Gaudí's iconic chimneys atop the building. Using a perforated and cylindrical form, this table lamp is truly reminiscent of the building and manages to be both classic and modern in look. With an inner opal diffuser, this table lamp gives a pleasant light and with two colours available, this light can easily fit into any design scheme and setting.
