Ronde Pendant by Gubi

The Ronde Pendant is the first design from Oliver Schick for Gubi. The light is distinguished by its bell-like shape, making reference to lighting design in the 1970s through a modern eye. With elegant lines and its curvaceous shape, this light truly embodies its name as ronde means round or circular in several languages.

The pendant is made from hand-spun aluminium with ultra-matt lacquer, giving it the illusion of being made from ceramics, formed on the potter's wheel for your enjoyment. The light works well in both home and work settings and looks best over a table due to its downwards directional light. The light also creates a warm atmosphere because of the slight opening on top of the shade, which emanates a soft light towards the ceiling. With two sizes and 4 colours available, you can also cluster several to create a dynamic light feature that is both subtle and interesting.
