Muuto Fiber Armchair with Leather Shell

Designed by the prestigious design duo, Iskos-Berlin, the Fiber Armchair by Muuto is a part of their wider Fiber collection. An exploration of simplistic yet effective design, the armchair interprets the well-known shell chair, providing plentiful comfort whilst taking up minimal space for your lounge or dining space.

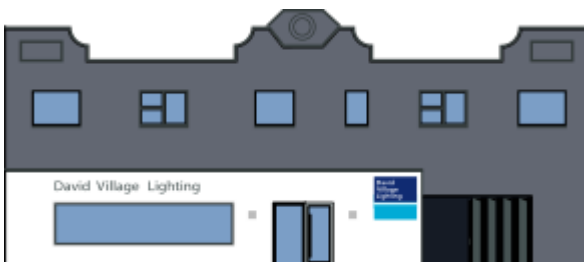

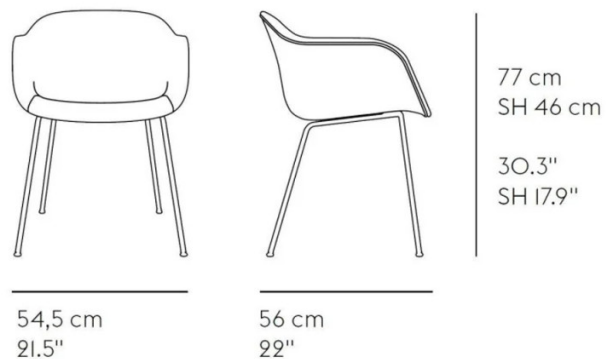

The armchair has been made with an original composite of plastic and wood fibres, which creates a soft matte finish. Though from afar the chair appears to be plastic, up close the pieces of wood fibres can be seen, giving the chair a new character and feel. The inside of the chair is made from fabric and foam, giving complete comfort and the legs are made out of solid oak wood.

This version of the Fiber Armchair is upholstered in leather, giving a more luxurious and chic finish to the chair. Available in either black or cognac leather, this chair would impress well in either a home or work environment.
