Lee Broom Decanterlight Tulip Pendant

The Tulip Decanterlight, designed by Lee Broom, was inspired by the original collection released in May 2010 following the launch of Lee Broom's bar and restaurant design Coquine in London. This project won Elle Decoration UK's British Design Awards for Best Interior and led to Lee Broom releasing a new collection which featured his own design of patterns in the crystal that were inspired by the vintage range.

The Lee Broom Decanterlight Tulip Pendant provides a captivating lighting solution that features an exposed bulb. Thanks to the hand-cut details in the crystal shade the ambient illumination creates subtle plays of light after passing through the surface. This pendant can be utilised in residential or commercial settings and can be displayed individually or as a cluster for larger spaces. Perfect for above coffee table, kitchen countertops and dining areas.
