PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Neri&Hu

Artemide nh 1217 table lamp

A modern intake on the traditional Chinese lanterns, the nh1217 table lamp was designed by Neri&Hu Design and Research Office for Artemide. The lamp has a flexible brass handle functions either as a base to use for a table light or suspend from the ceiling or hang on the wall. The handle allows you to move around the , and adjust the light to your liking and mood. Nh1217 has a hand blown glass diffuser and a brass handle, all together building on the interaction between detail, material and experience.

It is those principles that drive Neri&Hu on their designs, as tradition and innovation merge into one. The nh collection also includes a series of suspension lights, different sizes and lengths. The different configurations meet a wide scope of interiors.
