In The Tube 120-1300 Wall Light by DCW éditions

A part of the DCW éditions In The Tube collection, the In The Tube 120-1300 is the largest wall light from the range, radiating an effective and warming glow. The wall lamp is made from several components, with a glass tube that encases a metal reflector and metal mesh diffusers that spread the light evenly throughout your space. Like all the lights from the collection, the In The Tube 120-1300 wall lamp is available in multiple colour finishes, with the choice between gold or silver diffusers, a gold or silver reflector and black or transparent stoppers.

This wall light can be used in a wide variety of settings to provide a gorgeous yet functional glow. Designed by Dominique Perrault & Gaëlle Lauriot-Prévost, the In The Tube was born out of the need to design a unique and unseen piece and so will add originality to any home, work or professional interior. Also match with other wall lights from the series for a complete look and install horizontally or vertically to suit your needs.

Please Note: the DCW éditions In The Tube Wall Light can be supplied with an IP64 rating upon request, making it suitable for bathrooms and exterior settings.
