Nuée LED Pendant Light by Foscarini

Designed by Marc Sadler, the Nuée pendant light is an impactful and stunning light that is primarily made from three-dimensional fabric. The design appears strong yet ethereal, with a lightweight look and a striking profile that will draw the eye in any room. The white finish of the pendant lamp means it can suit any type of design scheme and will be a statement piece in your interior.

The Nuée pendant lamp has an integrated LED for a soft and long-lasting glow and will work well as a main light in the space because of its larger size. Providing an ambient illumination and a beautiful decorative perspective, this pendant light is truly forward-thinking and innovative.
