Lightweight Pendant Light by Foscarini

The Lightweight pendant is a stunning and showstopping light designed by iconic designer Tom Dixon. The frame is made from anodized metal, shaped and constructed to resemble the 3D development of a crystal. There are 8 light sources that sit on the end of each arm, encased by a hand-blown diffuser to create a soft and warm glow.

The Lightweight pendant light is a modern and stylish chandelier, that looks grand and graphic in any space. Perfect for larger rooms and high ceilings, this pendant is wonderful for making a statement in a contemporary way. Walking the fine line between tradition and innovation, this chandelier light is made with top quality craftsmanship that is unparalleled.
