Anglepoise + Margaret Howell Type 75 Mini Wall Light

The Anglepoise Margaret Howell Type 75 Mini Wall Light is the result of a collaboration between Margaret Howell and Anglepoise. Margaret Howell is a well-known British clothing designer, putting authenticity, functionality and timelessness at the forefront of her designs. This ethos is beautifully reflected in her work with Anglepoise, which strikes a balance between style and performance. In 2012, Howell colour-matched an original Anglepoise lamp from the 70's, resulting in the Yellow Ochre finish. Following the success of this new colourway, Howell added Blue Saxon and Sienna to the collection – bold and vibrant finishes that echo vintage design.

The Type 75 Mini Wall Light boasts a flexible design. The adjustable shade allows users to focus light precisely where needed. Display beside a bed or office desk for a functional reading light, or install in pairs, framing a doorway or piece of art for a sense of balance and style. With a clean, uncluttered silhouette, the Type 75 suits a wide range of environments, perfect for adding a splash of colour and bold personality to any space.

The Type 75 mini wall comes in 2 versions, available with a cable and plug, to install near a socket, or hard-wired. Please consult an electrician before hard-wiring into the mains electricity.
