Pablo Brazo LED Table Lamp

The Pablo Brazo table lamp may appear a simple design however, there is a lot of complexity and adjustability involved in the use of this lamp. The designers made the exterior of the lamp very minimalist in order to highlight its functionality. Ideal as a task light in a workspace, this LED table lamp gives the user full control of the light source. The integrated rotary dimmer allows you to control the light intensity with a simple turn of the end of the light. The adjustable stem allows you to elongate the stem by 18cm and bring the light upwards with ease. This Pablo Brazo task light also is able to rotate 360 degrees from the stem meaning you can light every shadow with precision. The aluminum shade also rotates to direct the beam of light from the light source.

All of these functions elevate this table lamp to become more of a functional task light ideal for working environments. However, the sleek design and minimalist style also mean this light would fit beautifully within the home.
