Karman Leda LED Hanging Floor Lamp

The Leda was designed by architect and designer, Luca and Dario with the aim of 'figuring out where the limit is and trying to overcome it in fields that are still unknown'. This aim has led them to the creation of the Leda Hanging floor lamp, which Karman describes as 'LED with a feminine touch'. This design combines poetry and technology to create this stunning necklace of light formed of anodized aluminum spheres and cylinders. The designers are continuously researching and trying to constantly innovate to design new and exciting lighting solutions that are customisable and take lighting to the next level. They have clearly achieved this with the materials and flexibility of the Leda collection. This hanging floor lamp features a silicone LED module that can curve and flex to form your own personalised floor lamp design.

Another feature of this Karman LED floor lamp is the in-line dimmer switch on the cable. This allows you to perfectly adjust the light intensity to the ideal ambient output. Along with the flexible nature of this lamp, you have a wide scope for customisability which allows for this Leda design to fit perfectly into any interior. Available in a bronze and black finish, the Leda hanging LED wall light by Karman is a stunning addition to any modern home or commercial space.
