Northern Acorn Floor Lamp

The Acorn floor lamp by Northern was designed by Norwegian designer Atle Tveit after the popularity of the Acorn pendant. This lamp is a bold statement piece with an iconic silhouette. The design was inspired by Atle Tveit's native Norwegian forests with its strong and sturdy trunk-like stem and the tactile nature of the shade. Resembling an empty acorn shell on the woodland floor, this lamp provides a soft downward light. The large shade and tall stem recreate the feeling of light coming through the canopies of a Norwegian forest. The opal glass diffuser on the underside of the large shade creates a glare-free delicate beam of light that highlights the rounded elegance of the crafted shade.

Available in either dark grey or white, this stunningly simple floor lamp can easily bring a Norwegian touch to your interior. This lamp also includes two wooden toppers for the shade, one in light beech wood and the other in dark walnut. You can choose which tone best suits your interior and change the wooden detailing as you please. These additional pieces reiterate the forestry inspiration. The classic pull cord on/off switch hints at a vintage or retro feel that makes this lamp a timeless design that will bring joy and light to wherever it is placed.
