PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Bent Karlby

LYFA Mosaik Table Lamp

The Mosaik table lamp was designed by Bent Karlby who is widely regarded today as one of Denmark's most productive and versatile lighting designers of the 20th century. This is clear within designs such as the Mosaik collection. The table lamp is a classic design with modern and quirky features that set this lamp apart. For example, the bold use of the classic conical-shaped lampshade provides a functional wide beam of light and brings Scandinavian functionality to the design. Another modern feature is the small opening at the top of the shade. This small detail allows a small slither of light to escape the top of the lamp and bring a touch of glow to the space above the table lamp.

Available in a white and black finish, the Mosaik table lamp by LYFA features shimmering solid brass features that act as the stem through the shade to the base. By contrasting the black and white with the brass, it has enhanced the quality of both materials and demonstrates the contemporary style that characterises the design.
