PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Designer: Alfredo Häberli

Nox LED Portable Table Lamp by Astep

Named after the Latin word for night, the Nox portable lamp brings light to the darkness in a handy and versatile way. Designed by Alfredo Häberli, the table light features a beautifully round glass lampshade which is supported by an aluminium base and features a slim handle. The handle allows the user to carry the lamp wherever they wish, being the perfect companion in the dark.

The Nox portable table light features a dimmer switch on the top of the shade, so you can have a bright reading light or a cosy and warm relaxing light. The portable lamp looks particularly stunning on bedside tables and side tables but can be placed wherever you want for an atmospheric glow. This innovative and playful light will add a touch of style to any setting.

Please Note: The Nox Portable Lamp is not supplied with an induction charger base directly from Astep or David Village lighting. A recommended induction charging base can be sourced.
