HAY Anagram Table Lamp

The HAY Anagram was designed by British designer Sam Weller, who was inspired by the idea of creating a nostalgic yet functional lamp. The curved, glossy shade sits atop two split anodised aluminium legs, echoing architectural forms that are found in the Barbican in central London. A subtle cable exit at the base allows users to adjust and align the lamp's placement to suit a range of settings.

Available in four bold finishes, Rice, Charred Orange, Seaweed Green, and Iron Black, the Anagram Table Lamp adds a strong personality to both residential and commercial spaces. When switched on, the lamp emits an ambient downlight that suits desktops and shelves. With a retro on/off toggle switch, the Anagram has a nostalgic feel with a modern influence and aesthetic.
