Apiales Ceiling Lamp by Nuura

A part of the Nuura Apiales collection, the Apiales ceiling light was designed by Sofie Refer, one of the founding members of the Nuura brand. Made from mouth-blown glass and metal, this ceiling lamp exhibits an elegant and mesmerising aesthetic, using the best materials and techniques for a stunning fixture. Each shade branches out from the centre, emulating the feel of a chandelier and providing an effective general illumination for interiors.

The Apiales ceiling light is available with either opal white shades, which conceal and diffuse the light source, or colour-matched optic glass shades, which expose the light bulb and create dancing patterns and reflections on the ceiling. The metal structure is also available in a black or brushed brass finish so you can choose the right look for your space, whether you have a more traditional or contemporary interior design. The reduced size of the ceiling light makes it perfect for smaller settings where you still want the effect of a chandelier with limited space. Available with either 6 or 9 lampshades.
