Gubi Tynell 9209 Table Lamp

The Tynell 9209 Table Lamp is a true mid-century masterpiece, first designed by Paavo Tynell in 1940. Known for his ability to blend functionality with artistic detail, Tynell crafted the lamp with a brass shade referred to as ‘Kypärä’, Finnish for ‘helmet’, thanks to its distinct shape. This perforated shade allows subtle light to filter through, creating a gentle and atmospheric glow, while the main light is directed downward, making it perfect for reading or accent lighting.

The lamp’s brass stem, wrapped in lacquered rattan, adds a touch of natural elegance and tactile contrast to its polished brass base, demonstrating Tynell’s eye for combining materials. The meticulous craftsmanship and delicate perforations on the shade exemplify his signature style, bringing a sense of warmth and artistry to any interior.

Whether placed on a bedside table, desk, or console, the 9209 Table Lamp adds a timeless sophistication to any setting. Pair it with other pieces from the Tynell Collection to create a cohesive, harmonious design scheme.
