HAY Apex Table Lamp

The HAY Apex Table Lamp was designed by John Tree, a British designer who utilises architectural themes in his work. His inspiration for Apex came from traditional banker lights and a peaked roofline silhouette. The folded steel shade comes in a range of finishes that are a bold contrast to the sleek chrome frame, and can easily be rotated 360°, allowing you to direct the light source in whichever direction you need it.

The Apex Table Lamp offers functional lighting with a playful twist. John Tree has expertly combined both industrial and contemporary design, resulting in a practical lighting solution that adds a burst of colour to your space. This makes the Apex a perfect task light for your desk or a reading lamp for on your side table. Apex is also available as a Desk Lamp, which can be purchased with a solid lamp base or a clip to attach to your desk for optimal portability.
