KDLN Frame Wall Light

KDLN Frame Wall Light was designed by Benjamin Hubert. His inspiration for this minimalistic wall light was solidity and lightness which resulted in extensive research for the project and production. The frame of the light is on the outside whilst the light source is located on the inside, directing the light outwards and upwards which allows a glow to cast beautifully onto the wall.

The Frame wall light is contemporary however suits most settings whether they be modern or classical. There are two colours available to choose from, chrome and white.
