Normann Copenhagen Vekst Wall Lamp

The Normann Copenhagen Vekst Wall Lamp was designed by Simon Legald, a graduate of the Royal Danish Academy of Fine Arts. The sculptural powder-coated steel arms of the Vekst Wall Lamp hang facing downward like the branches on a willow tree, with each arm boasting an etched opal glass diffuser with a hidden light source. The wall lamp presents a distinguished aesthetic with its captivating symmetry, and the branches make Vekst take on a new expression depending on the angle from which it is admired.

The Vekst wall lamp looks elegant and modern on the walls in any home or commercial setting, providing soft ambient illumination. The wall light from the Vekst collection is also available in two different-sized pendants: small and large, the collection can be used cohesively or displayed individually depending on your interior style.
