HAY Nelson Pear Crisscross Bubble Pendant

The Nelson Pear Crisscross Bubble Pendant is part of the progressive Nelson Bubble Collection. Designed in 1947 by George Nelson, the series is inspired by silk-covered Swedish hanging lamps. Nelson set out to create a more affordable lighting solution, producing an innovative spray coating of translucent plastic polymer. This resulted in a lightweight, webbed shade that encompasses a steel-wire skeleton.

The Nelson Pear Crisscross Bubble Pendant offers a sculptural presence, even when not in use. Its large form appears to float midair for a captivating display, particularly suited to dining rooms and living spaces. When switched on, the translucent shade diffuses light for a warm glow that creates a cosy and welcoming ambience. Display individually or in multiples for captivating compositions, incorporating other pendants from the Nelson Bubble Collection for unique installations.
