Muuto Nerd Counter Stool

The Nerd Counter Stool was designed by David Geckeler for Muuto in 2012 and is a playful take on a typical architectural wooden chair. Available in a range of muted or lively finishes, this stool utilises Scandinavian design whilst combining contemporary elements, the low back silhouette is the embodiment of modern furniture design and also allows the stool to be easily tucked away when not in use. With a height of 79cm, this stool is designed to fit the average counter height, whilst providing ample leg room for maximum comfort.

The Muuto Nerd combines the traditional material of wood with a simple yet eccentric form, making for a timeless chair that adds character to any space whilst remaining durable for everyday use. The Muuto Nerd Counter Stool is a beautiful addition to residential kitchens around an island, bars, restaurants and modern cafes.
