Aromas Del Campo Aider Pendant

The Aider Pendant Light was designed by Arnold Salido for Aromas Del Campo and boasts an elegant modern style. Suspended from an abstract angled stem, this luminaire provides subtle glare-free downlighting, suitable for a range of spaces. The structure is available in two finishes, satin nickel or matt brass, and includes rattan detailing with a sleek gloss black shade. Due to the neutral tones, this pendant suits a wide range of fashions.

The Aider Pendant has a lampshade that encases the light source, creating a glow that is direct and precise. A beautiful way to display Aider is to suspend the luminaire over tables and surfaces, best utilised in kitchen and dining areas, adding an elegant touch to breakfast bars or kitchen islands. The Aromas Del Campo Aider Pendant can be installed individually or in multiples for larger spaces, similarly, you can pair it with other light sources in the collection to generate a more cohesive interior.
