Bert Frank Eos Pendant Light Single

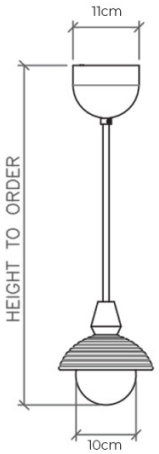

The Eos Pendant Light Single from Bert Frank is a sophisticated fusion of classic design and modern craftsmanship. Inspired by the timeless elegance of chalices and goblets, this pendant light is handcrafted in England using a combination of sand-casting techniques and precision CNC machining. Its frosted glass globe softly diffuses light, casting a warm and inviting glow while beautifully showcasing the brass craftsmanship available in finishes of brushed brass, antique brass, or dark bronze. Each detail of the Eos Pendant Light Single is carefully considered to enhance both residential and commercial spaces.

Ideal for various settings, the Eos Pendant Light Single is perfect as a standalone piece or clustered in multiples to create a visually striking effect. The bespoke drop length can be customised to fit different room heights, ensuring adaptability for both intimate and expansive interiors. This pendant not only brings a warm ambient light but also embodies Bert Frank's dedication to high-quality British craftsmanship, making it a timeless addition to any room.
