NORR11 Gallery Wall Light

The NORR11 Gallery Wall Light is a sculptural lighting fixture that blends art and architecture, creating a refined yet statement-making presence. Inspired by museum and gallery lighting, it provides a unique dual illumination effect—a narrow opening at the base directs light downward, while its primary function is to wash light upwards, casting a warm and atmospheric glow. The design embodies a contrast between materiality and weightlessness, using thin travertine plates that appear as if folded like paper. This delicate effect is achieved through a hidden metal plate inside the travertine, ensuring both stability and an ultra-light aesthetic.

Crafted from natural travertine and powder-coated aluminium, the Gallery Wall Light has a textural elegance that adds depth and character to interior spaces. The subtle grain of the travertine enhances its organic feel, making each piece slightly unique. Whether used as a singular feature or arranged in multiples to create a curated gallery-like installation, this fixture adds a sculptural dimension to walls.

Ideal for hallways, living rooms, and hospitality settings, the Gallery Wall Light is perfect for creating moody, indirect lighting. The compact size ensures versatility, while its minimalist yet expressive form makes it an artistic statement piece.
