Tom Raffield Verso Table Lamp

With an asymmetrical form and looping timber petals, the Verso Table Lamp welcomes a fresh perspective that adds a touch of personality to any interior. Inspired by falling leaves in the wind, the Verso conveys a sense of calm and balance. To achieve its looping form, one length of sustainably sourced timber is steam-bent to enclose the light source within. When illuminated, light pools through gaps in the wooden frame, creating a display of light and shadows. Light permeates through the timber, adding a feeling of life to the lamp.

The Verso Table Lamp is available in three natural finishes: ash, oak, and walnut. The neutral tones of the wood offer versatility, suiting a range of interiors and decors. Display with other pieces from the Verso Collection such as the Verso Pendant or the Verso Pendant to create a cohesive theme in your home. The Verso Table Lamp is also available as a Portable Lamp, perfect for adding a warm and cosy ambience wherever you go.
