Designer: Poul Henningsen

Louis Poulsen PH Aged Brass 2/2 Luna Table Lamp

Inspired by Poul Henningsen's pioneering work on glare-free illumination, the Louis Poulsen PH 2/2 Luna Table Lamp is a beautifully detailed lighting piece that merges technical ingenuity with visual harmony. The iconic three-shade system is formed from hand-blown opal glass with a white sandblasted underside, dispersing a gentle, even glow. Aged brass fittings – brushed and lacquered – add warmth and understated elegance to the structure, elevating the design with timeless sophistication. The top section is adjustable, allowing the upper portion to be tilted 45° to the right or left for a more personalised lighting angle.

This table lamp is ideal for intimate environments such as bedside tables, reading nooks, sideboards or softly lit corners in both private and hospitality settings. The pairing of aged brass and layered opal glass not only enhances visual comfort but also introduces a refined aesthetic to any room. Its compact footprint and high-quality craftsmanship make it a versatile accent piece that blends function with enduring style.
