Nuura Asteea 3 LED Suspension

Designer Sofie Refer was inspired by nature for the Astee 3, mirroring the profile of a bellflower to create this suspension. Its acrylic shades are reminiscent of the flower's delicate head, while the metal arms are the curved stems. The arms feature a satin brass finish, a touch of elegance that complements the rippled shades. An integrated LED module protrudes from within each shade, giving the appearance of a flower's stamen. If required, the LEDs can be replaced.

Ripples feature throughout the three shades on the Asteea 3, adding to the luminaire's organic aesthetic. As light is diffused through the shade, the ripples refract light, casting a subtle play of light and shadows. The soft, indirect light distributed by the Asteea 3 adds to the ornate appearance of the suspension while creating a warm and welcoming atmosphere in any room. The Asteea 3 is well suited above a dining room table, installed individually or in rows. Alternatively, display the Asteea 3 in groups to create a statement piece reminiscent of an arrangement of flowers.
