Lee Broom Chant Portable Table Lamp

Drawing on the geometry of 1970s pressed glass bricks, the Lee Broom Chant Portable Table Lamp brings sculptural presence and atmospheric light to both indoor and outdoor settings. A compact cube of mouth-blown glass, either frosted or clear, sits on a precision-engineered base in brushed bronze, silver or gold. The indented circular pattern on each face refracts light beautifully, producing a gentle, layered glow that feels both nostalgic and modern. As Lee Broom's first-ever portable design, Chant continues his tradition of elevating everyday forms through craftsmanship and theatre.

Built with portability in mind, Chant offers four-stage touch dimming and up to 80 hours of battery life on the lowest setting. A magnetic USB-C charging point is discreetly hidden beneath the base, and its IP54 rating ensures weather resistance, making it ideal for terraces, dining areas, or atmospheric window displays. The result is a lighting object that's sculptural yet highly functional.
