Marset Lauro Floor Lamp

The Marset Lauro Floor Lamp is a reissued 1970s design that carries a visual style, whilst also being functional. Its adjustable shade rotates and slides on the stem, letting you direct the beam exactly where you want it, ideal beside a sofa, armchair, or in a quiet corner where you want focused light without overhead glare. The circular base and steel tube structure give it a sculptural presence that suits both modern homes and professional spaces.

Lauro is available in dark brown or chromed steel, paired with either an opal diffuser for a softer, more ambient effect or a black shade for a more directional output. It uses an E27 bulb and is operated via an on-off switch integrated on the product, with a 250cm cable for placement flexibility. A strong choice for lounges, libraries, studios, and hospitality settings where you want a floor lamp that looks considered and performs reliably.
