The Mater Terra LED Portable Table Lamp was launched as David Village Lighting UK's exclusive, and the result of a collaboration between OEO Studio and Mater. With a shared passion for sustainability, they have created a product that is ecologically friendly. Each piece is made from Matek™, a recycled material formed from post-consumer e-waste mixed with coffee shells or wood waste. The resulting material is durable, rich in colour, and sustainable. Matek's™ qualities allow for seamless integration of the joints and technical elements, giving it a clean and sleek profile.

The Terra Portable Table Lamp features an integrated dimmer, which allows for a three-step dimming process (20%, 50%, or 100%). The charging time is 6 hours, which offers up to 10 hours of use when fully charged. The direct downward lighting makes it a perfect task light on an office desk or coffee table, and the cable-free, portable design makes it easy to move wherever it is required.
