HAY Compass Floor Lamp

Designed by Julien Renault for HAY, the Compass Floor Lamp is a new addition to the Compass Collection. The freestanding lamp's ambitious arching form offers pendant-like illumination, providing an alternative to ceiling fixtures. Despite its large form, the Compass Floor Lamp offers complete flexibility. The base can be rotated 360 degrees, the curved arm is extendable, and the lamp can be tilted. These considered details allow users to easily direct light as required. The inline dimmer on the cable offers adjustable lighting to suit any environment.

The Compass Floor Lamp boasts a distinctive form that adds a sculptural presence to any space. Its contemporary aesthetic suits professional workspaces, while its slim profile maintains visual lightness, blending into residential environments without overwhelming the room. Display in a living room, with the curved arm suspending light over a sofa to provide a bright, functional reading light. Install alongside the Compass Pendant to create a sense of balance throughout the home.
