Designer: John Astbury

Pholc Fall Pendant

Designed by John Astbury for Pholc, the Fall Pendant Light provides a warm and inviting illumination for a variety of settings. The curved glass shade encases an inner light source that is softly diffused through its form. The illumination is easily dimmable, meaning you can further personalise the luminance depending on the needs of you and your interior.

Fall brings a welcoming sense of intimacy to whichever room you decide to display it in, creating its own space within a space. The pendant can be displayed independently, in multiples and even alongside the Fall Wall Light in the same collection. Similarly, it easily adapts to residential spaces, as well as larger commercial environments. A beautiful addition to cafes, restaurants, bars and hotels.
