Inspired by the silhouette of a classic table lamp, the Marset Fragile Chandelier reinterprets this timeless form in glass. Designer Jaume Ramírez uses the material to convey a sense of purity and delicacy. Available with three, six, or nine arms, each version features cylindrical diffusers framed by conical and spherical glass shades. For added flexibility, the chandelier can be configured with both sphere and cone shades, cone shades only, or sphere shades only.

When illuminated, the Fragile Chandelier provides soft, diffused ambient light, while a downward-facing spotlight delivers practical task lighting. This balance makes it well suited to dining tables, living rooms, and entrance halls. Its distinctive architectural form and range of sizes and shade configurations make it a versatile choice for both residential and commercial interiors.

The Fragile Chandelier is also available in 2200K and can also be supplied with DALI-2 and Casambi options. Please contact us for more information and pricing.
