Mercury LED Suspension by Artemide

Part of an award winning collection, designed by Ross Lovegrove, the Mercury lights are available in suspension and ceiling lights, and in two sizes. Mercury was awarded the Red Dot Design Award and the Good Design Award in 2008. These lights are instantly recognisable as Lovegrove's signature pieces, who draws inspiration from simple elements found in nature.

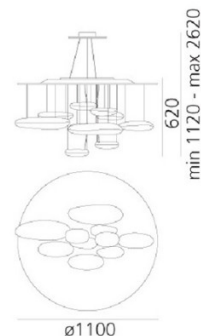

The Mercury LED suspension light has a number of pebbles suspended from an aluminium disk. The pebbles seem to be floating in the air, in various heights. The natural light bounces off the pebbles, while the dynamics between light and movement is constantly reflected. When not on, the Mercury lights are a phenomenal sculptural object in the room. When switched on, the light is bounced off the pebbles and reflecting light in the environment around. The pebbles also create a playful game of shadows, onto the aluminium disk.

The LED suspension is available as a Standard size (10 pebbles) or a Mercury Mini (5 pebbles) LED suspension light. You can select your preferred colour temperature, 2700K or 3000K. The collection also includes a halogen/retrofit Suspension and a ceiling light in either halogen/retrofit or integrated LED version.
