Arturo Alvarez Tina Pendant Light

Arturo Alvarez is well known for experimenting with materials, and the Tina pendant is no exception. Polypropylene strips of different lengths are moulded and shaped to create a voluminous and expressive pendant. The light emission is diffused through the irregular layers which soften the light and give the Tina pendant a feeling of movement and vitality. With the hidden light source, the Tina pendant lamp has an ethereal quality of lightness and fluffiness.

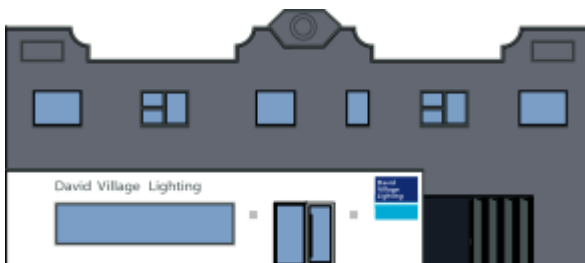

The Tina pendant light strips are referred to as 'hairs', and can be trimmed to customise the design of the pendant. These 'hairs' add to the lightness expressed by the light, created the filtered and soft light.
