Foscarini Tutu Wall Light

The Tutu wall light was designed by Valerio Bottin in 2001 and is a beautiful piece of craftsmanship from the Foscarini brand. Made using traditional, long-standing techniques, this wall light is made from hand-blown glass shaped into a curved band which is held by subtle pins at the side. The glass diffuser conceals the light source, creating a warm and inviting glow perfect for many settings.

The Tutu wall lamp is available in a white finish being an elegant lighting solution for your home or commercial space. The wall lamp emits a downward and upward light, reflecting off the wall to provide an effective illumination. You can also choose which way you would like to position the light, giving versatility and freedom with design. Use in hallways, lounges, corridors, reception rooms and many more to add a touch of refinement and classic design to your interior.
