Flos Tatou Table Lamp

The Flos Tatou Table Lamp by designer Patricia Urquiola takes its name from the French word for 'armadillo' and provides both a decorative design and a practical lighting solution. Drawing influence from Japanese armour, the decorative shell-like shade is made from four identical polycarbonate elements, all interwoven to form a unified dome shape. The result is an intricate shade which diffuses the inner light source, creating a warm ambient glow.

Available in white and ochre grey, the Tatou Table Lamp offers a glare-free illumination which forms a play of light and shadows on surrounding walls due to its latticed shade. Tatou is a functional and stylish lighting solution suitable for living rooms, bedrooms and hallways in contemporary homes and as a soft task light in offices and other workspaces. The Tatou collection by Flos also includes a pendant and a floor lamp.
