Artemide Nur LED Pendant Light uses the familiar Nur body to house an integrated LED source, keeping the light controlled within a clean, concentrated form. Designed by Ernesto Gismondi, it provides general ambient lighting with direct and indirect emission, so the fitting gives light downward while also lifting some of it back into the space.

This page brings together the standard Nur LED pendant and the smaller Nur Mini LED. The relationship between them is straightforward: same design language, different scale. Gloss versions introduce a perfectly smooth and polished finish, while the Mini Gloss models are encased in a diffuser at the bottom.

Artemide Nur LED Pendant Light comes in Anodised Aluminium, Anthracite Grey, Gloss White, and Gloss Black, across the Nur and Nur Mini range. Some standard versions are Artemide App Compatible, while the Mini versions use Push dimming. Best suited for dining tables, kitchen islands, living spaces, and commercial interiors where a pendant is needed for general ambient light with a strong, simple silhouette.
