Anglepoise Original 1227 Brass Wall Lamp

The Anglepoise Original 1227 Brass Wall Lamp is a reimagined edition of the iconic Anglepoise lamp, designed by George Carwardine and launched in 1935. This wall-mounted version features the instantly recognisable shade of the original, while introducing brass detailing and a woven cable. These new additions bring a new lease of life to the original design for a refined and sophisticated aesthetic.

The 1227 Brass Wall Light features a fully rotational shade, allowing users to easily direct light as required. A discreet switch located on the back plate maintains the lamp's clean and uncluttered appearance. Display individually, in rows lining a long hallway, or in pairs to frame a doorway. Available in 3 finishes, Elephant Grey, Ink Blue, and Jet Black, the Original 1227 Brass Wall Lamp offers a timeless elegance to both residential and commercial environments.
