PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

A diffuser in blown glass in soft, full form seemingly suspended from a delicate metal cage. This is Metafisica, the new table lamp forged by the Diesel-Foscarini partnership.

Mysterious and charismatic even when it is switched off, it assumes even more body and life when it is switched on, to the extent that the diffuser appears to float in the air and flout the laws of gravity.

Its warm, absorbing light is made more sensual by the ivory tones of its blown glass and the metal rod cage with a brown finish which exudes golden highlights and projects an enchanting play of shadows on the supporting surface.

Metafisica is an imposing yet at the same time versatile lamp designed to steal the limelight wherever it is positioned. It is ideal in bedrooms but also for living rooms, on a console in the hall or a large desk but also in groups on a hotel reception desk or the tables in a living room.

Lamp included.
