Fairy Wall Light by Axolight

Fairy wall light, is part of the Fairy Collection of wall, ceiling and suspended lights by Italian designer Manuel Vivian. Vivian, who first experimented with blown glass, has created numerous collections for Axolight and his designs have become classics. The Fairy wall light has a frame and wall fitting in a chrome plated finish, while the glass diffuser can be in grey, crystal or amber. The diffuser has a multifaceted glass, similar to the briole cut in precious gemstones, which acts as a kaleidoscope and reflects light in every direction; even when not switched on. The perfect light for any interior space, either residential or commercial. Fairy lights also benefit from an integrated LED source, and are dimmable via mains phase which means you can tailor the light brightness to your liking.

The Fairy Collection is comprised of various sparkling lights, suspensions, ceiling and wall lights all with a strong personality. The family includes more suspensions, with a single or multiple lights hanging from either circular or linear ceiling canopies. For more information and pricing, please contact us.
