Foscarini Aplomb Pendant

A part of the Foscarini Aplomb Collection, the Aplomb Pendant is a contemporary and sleek light that is made to use as a spotlight. Made from lovely hand-poured concrete, this pendant has a unique aesthetic that is elegant and classic, despite being made from an industrial material. The Foscarini Aplomb has a lampshade that encases the light source, creating a glow that is direct and precise.

Wonderful to hang over tables and surfaces, this pendant light is best utilised in kitchen and dining areas, looking good over a breakfast bar or kitchen island. You can use one for a smaller surface or buy several to line bigger areas. With numerous colours to choose from you can find the right finish for your space or mix and match to create variety. This version of the pendant has a smaller light source fitting for a more concentrated flow.
