Artemide Nur Mini LED Ceiling Light

Artemide Nur Mini LED Ceiling Light takes the familiar Nur shape and brings it into a ceiling fitting. Designed by Ernesto Gismondi, the body keeps the source out of direct view, so the light feels controlled rather than exposed. It provides general ambient lighting through direct and indirect emission.

A decorative halo forms on the ceiling through the indirect emission, which gives the compact form a little more presence than a standard flush fitting. The standard versions keep the familiar finish of the wider range, while the Gloss versions are encased in a diffuser at the bottom, changing the way the underside is read.

Artemide Nur Mini LED Ceiling Light is available in Anodised Aluminium, Anthracite Grey, Gloss White, and Gloss Black. Its smaller scale and IP40 rating make it particularly useful where a pendant would feel too dominant, but a plain ceiling light would not bring enough definition. Best suited for hallways, bedrooms, kitchens, and other residential or hospitality interiors where a compact ceiling light can provide general ambient lighting with a clear architectural form.
