Fritz Hansen Avion Pendant Light

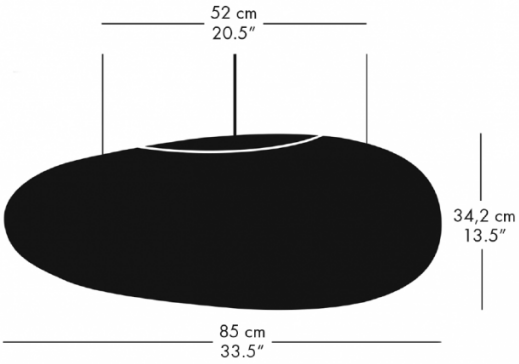

The Fritz Hansen Avion pendant was designed by Iskos-Berlin, a partnership that puts storytelling at the forefront of their designs. This pendant is no exception, as it is inspired by the Zeppelin airships that Iskos-Berlin have been fascinated by since childhood. The pendant light has an oval shape which resembles the Zeppelin, and is made from white polyethene. The shade diffuses the light, creating a warm, soft glow that creates a nice ambience in the room.

The Avion Pendant illuminates the room well and can be used in both big and small spaces. You can use one as a feature light, or you can buy several to put in interesting formations to create a dynamic and intriguing lighting design. This pendant can be used in homes or commercial spaces and will work well in many different types of rooms.

This pendant is available with an adjustable canopy so you can suspend the light at different angles to create a compelling look. Please contact us for more details and pricing.
