Artemide Melete LED Wall Light

The Artemide Melete LED Wall Light was designed by the brothers Pio and Tito Toso, who are known for their poetic sensation and a design power that is meant to evoke emotions. Their study on lighting and design is all about simplicity, one that is not trivial or frigid, which can be seen in the Melete.

Melete is crafted from a single piece of die-cast aluminium, and its shape is meant to interact with the interior architecture of the room. The internal part is carved inwards and emits a warm light, both upwards and downwards. Available in a white finish, this LED wall light effortlessly adapts to a variety of spaces and the light source can be supplied in either a 2700K or 3000K colour temperature.
