Anglepoise Original 1227 Brass Lamp with Wall Bracket

The Original 1227 Brass Lamp with Wall Bracket joins the Original 1227 Collection, first designed by George Carwardine in the 1930s. This reimagining of the iconic Anglepoise Original 1227 Desk Lamp maintains the versatility of the original through clever use of Anglepoise's signature tension spring technology. These springs work with the articulating arm to create smooth movement, allowing the lamp to be adjusted as required. The metal shade can be tilted to direct light, perfect for reading or working by.

The Original 1227 Brass Lamp with Wall Bracket features gorgeous brass details and a woven fabric cable, which softens the industrial aesthetic of the lamp. Suitable for both home and workspaces, this light is perfect as a spotlight to create a cosy corner or as an overhead reading light. Match with other Original 1227 Brass lights, such as the Original 1227 Brass Pendant and the Original 1227 Brass Desk Lamp, for a harmonised design scheme with a timeless aesthetic.
